Peace Prayers Crusade Gains Wide Support

NEW YORK (AP) — They take up their solemn post today outside the United Nations.

Off and on, in the next month, they're likely to appear there or at other places across the land, their heads bowed in supplication.

Devout men, troubled men, in clerical collars, prayer caps or plain civilian suits, Protestants, Roman Catholics and Jews, they are sentries in a vast vigil for peace in Viet Nam.

In a "critical world situation," said Bishop Reuben H. Mueller, president of the National Council of Churches, "may our prayers for peace and for those who suffer be fervent and unceasing."

Touched off by the special appeal of Pope Paul VI, leaders of many other religious bodies have joined in calling for concentrated intercession for divine help in ending the Viet Nam fighting.

October, the first full month of autumn, is the time set for it. "Make October a month when every church will open daily," the Rev. Dr. Allen Walker, a Methodist, exhorted at the Christian (Disciples of Christ) convention this week in Dallas.

The Rev. Dr. H. Franklin Paschall, of Nashville, Tenn., president of the Southern Baptist Convention, in urging Baptists to join with Roman Catholics and others in the special period of prayer. He commented: "Together, we may achieve amazing results."

The Pope, in his encyclical calling the Southeast Asia conflict a threat of "a more extensive and more disastrous calamity," said: "We cry to them in God's name to stop."

He asked for particular devotions through October toward that purpose.

Rabbi Dr. Maurice N. Eisenblatt, president of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, and Rabbi Jacob J. Weinstein, president of the Central Conference of American Rabbis, said:

"We join our voices in prayerful solidarity with the great religious leaders of the world and especially Pope Paul and his heartbroken plea to the nations of the world 'to stop before it is too late.'"

The Rev. Dr. Ben Mohr Herber, president of the United Church of Christ, including Congregationalists urged intensified prayers throughout the month, with special services on world order Sunday Oct. 16.

An interdenominational New York Committee of Clergy Concerned for Viet Nam was sponsoring the "silent vigil" this afternoon outside the United Nations.

UP Legislators Plan Marquette Commemoration

LANSING (AP) — Three new legislative committees will look into health problems—including the effects of medicine, insurance needs and the distribution of information on birth defects and inheritable diseases, Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit announced Friday.

A fourth will lay plans for celebrating the 300th anniversary of Fr. Jacques Marquette's arrival in Michigan.

The House Medicare Committee will study "the federal medicare program and state laws passed this year implementing that program to determine what effect these laws will have on the state's people, institutions, medical professions and government," Kowalski said.

The insurance committee will "also review licensure and practice acts to determine if they need to be updated," he said.

The Pere Marquette Tercentenary Committee will study the possibility of establishing a national memorial to the French explorer and missionary. It will include Democrats Dominic Jacobetti of Negaunee, Eugene Cater of Ludington and Albert Horrigan of Flint, and Republicans Martin Buith of Comstock Park and Clayton Morrison of Pickford.

CHICAGO (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has criticized careless spending of the taxpayers' money and says winning the war in Viet Nam quickly should take precedence "over the war on poverty or getting to the moon, or anything else."

At a news conference Friday, Eisenhower advocated immediate application of "as much force as we need to win" the war. He added "I'd take any action to win," but he avoided a direct yes or no to a question whether he proposed use of nuclear weapons.

The World War II military leader said the continuing war exerts military, economic and political forces "all in the same direction" toward making the party in power so strong it could pass "any kind of law they want."

In an address Friday night at a Republican fund-raising dinner, the former president said "responsible progress is what we want."

Johnson Order Averts Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has averted for at least 60 days a strike by 12,000 members of the AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union against Pan American World Airways.

Johnson signed an executive order Friday creating a three-member board to investigate the dispute and report its findings within 30 days, but did not immediately name the members.

The union will be barred from striking for another 30-day period after Johnson receives the report while negotiators continue to seek a settlement.

The strike was threatened for 12:01 a.m. Sunday. A Pan Am official in New York said the dispute involved wages, premium pay and health and welfare benefits.

It was the third time this year Johnson has set up an emergency board to study airline disputes.

Ground Actions Small; B52s In Raid On North

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers pounded Communist troops in South Viet Nam with two raids today for a second consecutive day of double strikes.

One of the raids hit at North Vietnamese infiltration routes just south of the demilitarized zone where American Marines are fighting North Vietnamese forces in Operation Prairie.

This is the area hit by the two B52 raids Friday. The latest bombing, at midnight Friday, struck 20 miles west of Dong Ha.

The other Stratofort raid came at noon today. The long-range bombers hit at Communist troop headquarters and supply areas 40 miles northwest of the coastal city of Qui Nhon.

The heavy strike was in support of U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division troops in Operation Thayer.

Ground action across South Viet Nam was reported small and scattered once again. The only sizeable contacts were made in the two operations near the B52 raids.

Over North-Viet Nam, U.S. bombers kept up their crippling pressure Friday. Pilots flew 143 bombing missions against oil depots, missile sites and transportation facilities in the Hanoi-Haiphong areas and the southern panhandle.

The U.S. command, in a delayed report, announced one American plane was shot down Thursday night during raids over North Viet Nam, the 300th such loss of the war. The plane was a two-place Air Force F4C Phantom. One crew member was rescued and the other reported missing.

Pollution Fight Aids Measure Passes House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed 312 to 0 and sent to the Senate legislation authorizing a four-year $2.3 billion program to help cities and states step up the fight against pollution in rivers, lakes and other public waters.

Earlier this session, the Senate voted a $6 billion antipollution program spread over six years. A program somewhere between the two figures is expected to be approved later as a compromise.

The House measure would set $300 million for fiscal 1968 in federal funds for pollution control, $400 million for 1970 and $950 million for 1971. The authorization for fiscal 1967, which ends next June 30, is $150 million.

The bill would raise the federal contribution from 30 percent to 40 percent of project cost if states match the 30 percent contribution by municipalities.

And it would provide incentive for the development of basin plans for pollution control by raising the federal grant to 50 percent of the cost of projects which are part of basin plans. States and municipalities each would put up 25 percent of the cost of such projects.

Instant Campus For 2,000 Built In Three Months

CYPRESS, Calif. (AP) — They call it the "instant campus," and no wonder. Three months ago it didn't exist.

Today 2,000 students are attending Cypress Junior College, whose 19 buildings were constructed by putting together 10-by-32-foot, fiberglass-reinforced plywood sections.

Workers erected the college on a previously barren Orange County field in 74 days. Even the trees were transplanted.

The buildings are being leased for $419,303 a year to the school district, which plans permanent structures at another site in several years.

Modulux, Inc., of California said it built the pre-fab sections to last 40 years. The buildings can be moved.

THIS PICTURE taken August 23 by Lunar Orbiter 1's high-resolution camera from 745 miles above the moon shows the earth in the distance. The moon's horizon is 1400 miles away. The picture, released by the Boeing Co. in Seattle, was taken as a Boeing-built spacecraft, traveling at 2,400 miles an hour, flashed across the front face of the moon, whirled around the eastern rim and headed for the side never seen from earth. It shows a large area on the moon's eastern edge ravaged by enormous craters. The shutter speed was 1/100th of a second. ## Bill To Suspend Tax Credit Has Cleared House

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's bill to squeeze some of the business-spending steam out of the swollen U.S. economy has cleared the House and now faces efforts in the Senate to exempt various industries.

The measure would suspend for about 16 months the 7 percent investment tax credit that has helped produce a boom in machinery and equipment buying, plus fast depreciation provisions that encourage construction of industrial, commercial and apartment buildings.

About the time the House was passing the bill 221 to 118 Friday, Johnson was appealing to 10 more governors to trim public spending in their states in conjunction with the administration's anti-inflation program.

All but one of the 10 governors indicated a willingness to try to do some economizing. Gov. Paul B. Johnson, Mississippi Democrat, remained silent when the governors met with newsmen after the third in a series of White House conferences Johnson is holding with state chief executives.

Romney Opens Door For Zolton Ferency

By The Associated Press

Gov. George Romney has opened the door to a General Motors plant for Zolton Ferency, his Democratic opponent for governor.

The Republican governor's campaign schedule Friday in Genesee County included a tour of the Fisher Body plant at Grand Blanc.

But the plant management had billed Romney's visit as "a tour by the governor not as a politician."

Romney told plant manager Guy Bates he refused to make the tour unless management recognized he was there "purely as a politician" and would promise the same courtesy to Ferency if it was requested.

Bates agreed, and Romney went inside to shake employees' hands.

The stipulation because Ferency has been refused entry to another GM plant near Flint about a week after Romney was granted an in-plant visit with workers.

Romney today attended a number of rallies in St. Clair County. He planned to speak tonight to the annual American Legion fall conference in Kalamazoo.

Joining Romney in what was billed as the Republican "action team blitz" of St. Clair County was Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich. Griffin planned to speak tonight to the Case Rotary Club.

G. Mennen Williams, Griffin's Democratic opponent for the Senate, and Griffin stopped in Friday night at the University of Detroit Fall Carnival.

Each stopped at a student-operated concession where "Soppy's Special" and "Jumbo Bob" ice cream sundaes were being sold. The sorority selling the sundaes, named after the two candidates, kept track of the number sold in an effort to predict the election outcome.

Former Gov. Williams today made his second outstate Michigan flying trip of the campaign.

September Sales Tax Up From '65

LANSING (AP) — Sales and use tax collections climbed in September for the 58th consecutive month, the State Revenue Department reports.

They amounted to $55.6 million — 7.3 per cent more than the state took in in the corresponding month in 1965.

It was far short of the peak months in 1965, when revenue was up to 15 per cent better than the previous year—but better than the six per cent range recorded in recent months.

Over-all, it indicates that "business is holding up very well," Deputy State Revenue Commissioner Sydney Goodman said Friday.

Red China Vows To Support Viet Reds

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China marked its 17th anniversary today with a pledge to support the Vietnamese Communists to the end and a warning to the United States not to force China into war.

Defense Minister Lin Biao, speaking for party Chairman Mao Tse-tung and the Central Committee of the Communist party, told a cheering throng of millions:

"We are determined to support to the end the fight of the fraternal Vietnamese people in resisting America and saving their country, whatever sacrifice we have to make."

He also echoed an editorial in the Peking People's Daily which warned the United States that if it dared to force China into war

Casualty Tolls Rise As Rescue Teams Advance

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Inez, sucking new power into her system from the tepid waters of the Caribbean, lashed and tore at Cuba again today and once more Floridians followed the killer storm's erratic course with alarm.

Just when forecasters were considering the "all clear" sign for Florida, Inez crossed them up during the night with a westward turn that brought all of Communist Cuba in range of her howling winds and torrential rains.

And, as Prime Minister Fidel Castro glumly watched an economic disaster develop in his already tottering nation, Inez became again a definite menace to the U.S. mainland.

With more than 100 dead in her wake and possibly many more, Inez screamed out of the southeast into Cuba's easternmost Oriente Province Friday, battering that agriculturally rich area with wind gusts up to 138 miles an hour.

The Weather Bureau thought then she would veer northward, come off the island into the Atlantic, then hammer the central Bahamas on a track that would keep her clear of Florida.

Near Havana Today

But Inez never got to Cuba's north coast. Instead, she thrashed to west-northwest back into the Caribbean and howled along the south edge of the island on a snake-like course that is expected to bring her close to Havana late today.

The 8 a.m. advisory estimated the location of the eye at latitude 21 north but could say only that the longitude was somewhere between 70 and 80 west. Roughly, this would be 250 miles southeast of Havana and 350 south of Miami.

The 8 a.m. Weather Bureau bulletin estimated the location of the eye 200 miles southeast of Havana and 350 miles south of Miami. Inez was howling toward the west-northwest at 12 miles an hour.

Florida Warned

If continued, this course would bring the storm back ashore in western Cuba late today or tonight.

Small craft owners in the lower Florida Keys were warned to remain in port.

"If she regains her strength and moves back over Cuba," said forecaster Paul Moore, "she could reach the Florida Straits by tonight."

The straits, separating Cuba from Florida, is the unpredictable body of water used as an escape route by refugees fleeing Castro communism in small boats.

Inez had been twice weakened in titanic collisions with the mountains of Hispaniola and again with the towering peaks of Oriente Province — but back over the water she gained new fury rapidly.

Thousands Homeless

Hundreds were injured, thousands homeless, and vast crop acreages laid waste in the storm's raging journey through the Caribbean from the French island of Guadeloupe to Cuba.

It was feared that many bodies lie in Haiti, where Inez hurled the full force of her wind and rain down a heavily populated valley enclosed by tall mountains.

Death and damage tolls climbed continuously as rescue teams reached stricken areas.

Only one death was officially reported in Cuba, where Castro took personal charge of the evacuation of 123,000 persons from low-lying areas of the southeastern coast. Roaring tides had come ashore there.

Reports Slow

Cuba is slow to report its storm deaths. After Hurricane Flora killed more than 2,000 residents in 1963, Castro waited several days to disclose it in a speech to his people.

In 12 hours over the mountains of Oriente, the top winds slithering around the center of Inez dropped to 75 miles an hour. But they built back up quickly to 100 over the Caribbean. At one time, Inez packed a 175-mile an hour punch.

Top winds of 138 miles an hour lashed the town of Guantanamo Friday, destroying a

Powers Youths Seriously Hurt

STEPHENSON — Two rural Powers youths were seriously injured about 2:55 p. m. Friday when their speeding car ran off a county road west of Nadeau and slammed into a tree.

State Police of the Stephenson Post said the driver of the car was Joseph Gagne, 18, of Rte. 1, Powers. His only passenger was Dennis Kirschner, 18, also of Rte. 1, Powers.

Both young men were taken to St. Joseph-Lloyd Hospital in Menominee by the Mid-County Rescue squad. State Police said Gagne was listed in critical condition with head and stomach injuries and Kirschner in fair condition with stomach and arm injuries.

Troopers said the car, going about 70 miles per hour, left the county road about one mile west of Nadeau and careened sideways into the tree. The car, a 1960-model sedan, was demolished.

Hercules, the mythical figure, was required to perform 12 labors.

Govt. Files Wage Charge

Post Peeling Pay Attacked

The U. S. Department of Labor has charged an Escanaba industry with violation of the Fair Labor Standards Act in a dispute over how cedar post peelers should be paid.

The suit is now academic because competition from post peeling machines has already wiped out the post peelers' jobs, but the Department of Labor has filed a suit in U. S. District Court at Marquette asking Early American Fence Co. to pay $8,997 in back wages.

The suit alleges that the company failed to pay 56 employees the $1.25 an hour minimum wage and the required time and one-half pay for overtime work. It seeks $9,489 for allegedly under minimum pay and $508 for overtime since July 13, 1964.

The injunction suit against Early American and its president, John Walbridge, Jr., seeks a judgment to permanently enjoin the corporations from future violations. It charges also violations of record keeping.

Walbridge said that the firm's difference with the government arose out of its practice of paying cedar post peelers by the piece. This has been the general practice of the rustic fence manufacturing industry in paying for bark removal.

The Labor Department has been active in the fencing industry checking on this practice and is reported to have taken some consent judgments from fencing firms which did not contest the government's practice of calculating what the post peelers would have had coming if they had been paid by the hour instead of by the piece. Walbridge said that his firm had not regulated the hours of post peelers, that they had come to work and left when they chose and had set their own peeling volume rates. "The good ones could make $1.25 an hour and did," said Walbridge "and we only kept people who produced well."

"What the government appears to have done is to extend the findings at other places to our operations. We were forced by competition to put in post peeling machinery a year ago. This is unfortunate because while it is cheaper than peeling by hand the work is poorer and people will be denied post peeling jobs; so everyone loses."

Dunes Measure Up Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—A proposed national lakeshore on Lake Michigan in Indiana, caught in a new controversy, is currently reported to be headed for a House test next week.

The measure, previously cleared by the House Rules Committee, was said to have been placed on the House calendar for consideration at some time during the week.

These reports came after backers of the Senate-passed bill lashed out at Secretary of Interior Stewart Udall for his comments on the dunes during a news conference Wednesday.

"I raised hell with him (Udall) and told him he'd thrown a dish rag on the dunes bill," observed Rep. Ray Madden, D-Ind.

Rep. Edward Roush, D-Ind., sponsor of the bill, said he had asked Udall to clarify his position. Roush said he could not believe what he has heard, adding:

"I don't think he (Udall) understands Hoosiers and the way we do things."

Udall, in referring to a new controversy in Indiana, told his news conference:

"Maybe the thing we should do is abandon the national park idea and simply help the state of Indiana establish a larger state park there."

Point Patterson State Park Gets Federal Money

LANSING—A total of $6,300 in federal aid from the Land and Water Conservation Fund has been approved for release to the Michigan Department of Conservation as a 50-per cent reimbursement for its cost in buying nearly 38 acres at the proposed Point Patterson State Park Site in Mackinac County last December.

The land, located about nine miles south of Gould City and US-2, blocks in Department holdings in Mackinac State Forest where a state park is tentatively scheduled for development.

Featured in the 38-acre tract are 1,400 feet of Lake Michigan shoreline with a wide stretch of sandy beach between Hughes Point to the west and Birch Point to the east, slightly west of the mouth of Swan Creek.

Long-range plans for the Point Patterson property are focused on accommodating campers, picnickers, swimmers, boaters, hunters, fishermen, and nature lovers.

Miniature Ocean Built For Study

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Scientists can now study ocean currents, waves and the surf without getting even a toe wet.

An engineering firm here has created a miniature ocean enabling scientists to study the effects of waves and ocean movements.

The tank, which measures 6 by 13 by 10 feet, can be used to simulate nearly every type of ocean wave action, say its developers.

Ross, Waldos Plead Guilty To Bark River Bank Heist

MARQUETTE — Three men charged with the armed robbery of the Bark River State Bank entered pleas of guilty on arraignment this morning before Judge W. Wallace Kent in U. S. District Court.

Robert D. Ross, 35, of Reed City, Roy E. Waldo, 25, and Clarence E. Waldo, 32, both of Baldwin, admitted they took about $33,000 from the Bark River bank June 27.

Judge Kent remanded all three men to custody of the U. S. Marshal. Sentencing was set for 9 a. m. Saturday, Oct. 8. Maximum sentence for the charge is 25 years.

Ross was arrested in Panama City, Fla., Aug. 12 after escaping July 4 from the Superior, Wis., jail. He also escaped from the Panama City jail, but was recaptured the same day.

Caught in Oregon Both Clarence and Roy Waldo were arrested in Portland, Ore., July 26.

All three men were transferred to Marquette Sept. 15 to await arraignment. Ross and Roy Waldo were transferred to Marquette State Prison for parole violations after an escape attempt from the Marquette County jail by Roy Waldo.

Clarence Waldo remained in the County jail.

All three men were represented by court appointed attorneys, Ross by Marvin L. Heltman of Marquette; Clarence Waldo by Edmund Thomas of Ishpeming and Roy Waldo by Arthur Neidman of Escanaba.

There was no indication of how much of the stolen money had been recovered.

Had $7,200

Ross, when originally arrested June 28 at Superior, Wis., was in possession of about $7,200 in cash and travelers checks.

Warrants for the arrest of the Waldo brothers were issued by U. S. Commissioner Robert Bordeaux of Marquette. Commissioner John Erickson of Escanaba issued the warrant for Ross.

The robbery began shortly before 3 p. m. June 27. Ross was arrested June 28 at Superior and escaped jail July 4. Roy and Clarence Waldo were captured July 26 at Portland, Ore., and Ross was recaptured Aug. 12 at Panama City, Fla. The three men were transferred to Marquette to await arraignment Sept. 15.

Ball Resumes Private Life

WASHINGTON (AP) — George W. Ball returned to private life today after half a decade as one of the most influential men in American foreign policy.

President John F. Kennedy named Ball undersecretary of state for political affairs in November 1961 and President Johnson kept him on in the State Department's top job under Secretary Dean Rusk.

Only Sumner Welles, an undersecretary of state in the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration, served longer than Ball in the key post.

Ball, 56, resigned effective last night to return to his Washington law practice. Finances were one reason — his government pay was $30,000 a year — and he said he had not intended to stay on indefinitely. He was jokingly termed "the fudge factor" making foreign policy.

The Senate confirmed the nomination of Nicholas Katzenbach, 44, as Ball's successor Friday, with only Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., announcing dissent. Katzenbach has been attorney general.

Vatican Mission Meets Viet High Church Officials

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A three-member Vatican delegation continued a week long conference with South Viet Nam's Council of Bishops today after delivering a message from Pope Paul VI.

The 1,500-word letter from the pontiff was read Friday at the opening session with this country's 15 bishops.

The high-level Vatican mission met in private for three hours today. Saigon's Archbishop Nguyen Van Binh was host at a luncheon after the meeting.

The mission's purpose was officially described as Church business; to attend the bishop's conference and report on the Vatican Council. However, reports persist that it actually is the latest step in Pope Paul's personal campaign to bring peace to Viet Nam.

STRENGTH, SIZE, YEARS OF SERVICE

... it's all written in this Statement of Condition

OUR strength, size, our banking experience is mirrored in these figures, and no comparative bank statement within this area lays such claim to the ranking position we enjoy as does ours.

The capital strength of this bank, the largest in Delta County, is beyond what might be termed necessary. There is comfort in this prudent surplus, however. This strength we enjoy gives added protection to our depositors, gives added assurance of our ability to meet their needs and meet the challenge of changing times.

The total resources of First National also rank as the largest in Delta County. Actually, First National is the third largest in the Upper Peninsula and gaining on this position each year. This is the best indicator of public acceptance we can give. We're proud of the way the public in this area has trusted us with their deposits.

Age is a privilege, and along with the other Firsts, it is an enviable privilege to be the oldest bank in Delta County. Experience is the most noteworthy by-product of years in service. Our experience should help us answer any questions, and any request for help that you might have.

First National is the strongest, the largest, the oldest bank in Delta County, and everyone associated with our bank is proud of this position. We are mindful, however, that we grew strong and large and experienced because you and so many others came to bank with us. Thank you for your support, your acceptance. In turn, we pledge to remain a strong bank, a community-minded bank, a bank to be counted on.

Economics In Iron

Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co.'s Pioneer Pellet Plant near Negaunee is a huge building into which all the persons in the Upper Peninsula could be squeezed, although it would be a tight fit. The plant's operation is a dramatic example of the application of research and development to industry.

The plant pellets 70 per cent of the ore produced by the Mather Mine in the first operation of its kind in the world. It is a success story of ingenuity that saved a big industry founded upon the Mather Mine ore body. There's at least 75 million tons of iron ore there, enough for 30 years or more of mining at the present rate of production.

The Mather, opened in 1944 (it's "B" Shaft in 1950), was facing closing because of the fading market for direct shipping (natural) ores with 50-plus per cent iron content. As late as 1962 its fate was uncertain and its 380 jobs were in peril. Today it has 700 persons employed, having created 320 additional jobs.

How come this near miracle of rebirth of a dying industry?

CCI and its partners, McLouth Steel, Bethlehem Steel and Republic Steel companies, developed a process for pelletizing the ore mined underground in the Mather. The ore had been losing markets because it could not compete with foreign ores of higher iron content or with pellets.

CCI developed a grinding and pelletizing process that made it possible—despite the higher cost of underground mining than surface mining—to compete with pellets from surface mining.

This rescue mission, of course, has implications for the future and for other mineral properties. Pelletizing need not be restricted to the low grade ores found near surface; it can be employed to upgrade the marketability of at least some underground ores. Where natural ores with 51.5 per cent iron are standard, the pellets have 62 to 65 per cent iron. The difference decides which little pigs go to market today.

Iron is commonplace throughout the world. The deposits which are mined are those which can be exploited profitably. Iron is one of the major natural resources of the Upper Peninsula but its development is a costly, difficult process. Cleveland Cliffs on the Marquette Range and Hanna Mining Co. on the Menominee Range have managed this with great skill. And huge economic benefit results.

Surface mining doesn't provide as many jobs as underground mining, but the jobs are more highly skilled and better paid, and there are many side benefits like huge electric, gas and oil power usage in modern iron ore beneficiation and pelletizing.

Cliffs was employing 1,640 men on the Marquette Range in 1960. Today it employs 3,150 and five-sixths of its iron production is in pellets. When it had 7 or 8 underground mines operating it shipped less than 6 million tons of ore and last year it set a record of more than 7 million tons shipped. Not only was the volume up, but the iron content and value were greatly increased.

Those thousands of jobs average $3.50 hourly earnings (miners are members of the Steelworkers Union but are paid better than steel mill workers) and the employers' cost of the jobs, with fringes, is $4.20 an hour.

When the U.P. takes inventory of its resources it should be clear that such enterprising is at the top of the list.

ROMNEY

You are 100 per cent correct in your editorial concerning Governor George Romney. He has a lot of guts.

We note he is in Washington conferring with President Johnson with 8 other governors. Undoubtedly he is dumping his major problems on the President's lap.

After studying Governor Romney's methods we have come to the conclusion that anything which is politically expedient he is willing to champion.

His tax methods are definitely in favor of big business such as American Motors. He made a statement concerning civil rights in which he favored state control, but when he couldn't handle it he said the Federal Government should do something about it.

Sit-In Protests Ann Arbor Police On MU's Campus

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A group of young persons, protesting the presence of city policemen on campus, staged an overnight sit-in at the office of a University of Michigan vice president.

The demonstrators, mostly students, demanded action on a protest they filed with U-M officials two weeks ago. At that time, they asserted Ann Arbor policemen in plain clothes had taken photographs of students engaged in another demonstration.

The youths vowed to sit in the office of Wilbur K. Pierpont, U-M vice president and chief financial officer, until Pierpont met with them.

The number of demonstrators varied from five to 20 throughout the night as some arrived and others left.

Richard Cutler, U-M vice president for student affairs, said city policemen have been called because we have no campus police force and they are our sole means of protecting life and property.

He is anti-labor in every respect, vetoing anything he can get by with which benefits labor.

ACT OF GOD?

I notice in a news release, Sept. 26, that Ralph Bailey, regional game biologist, feels that the decline of the ruffed grouse may be attributed to an act of God. That is, he refers to the sleet storm that hit the U. P. last December.

Well, of course, God can't defend Himself, and I doubt that He would if He could. God usually permits men to go their way, until they come to their senses by some disastrous event in life which wakes them up. However, there are people who never wake up.

I was wondering if the game biologist might begin to think that a 40 day season on ruffed grouse may also have contributed to their decline. Of course, I know that such thinking is anathema with game biologists. Also there are the fellows driving jeeps, pickup trucks and other vehicles who make a practice of shooting birds from their vehicles. Perhaps these may also have contributed to the decline of the ruffed grouse. These people are able to drive any and all roads and do.

We have now lived on the Escanaba River since the middle of May. I have expected a call from a conservation warden, but my expectations have been unfulfilled. How can these people know what fish there are in the river, or what game there is in the woods, when they never set foot in them?

But then again, I suppose I ought to feel some pride because the representatives of the Conservation Department never visit us. They must feel that we obey the law and don't need looking after. Or perhaps they feel that "The Old Man" on the river, isn't capable of violating the law because of the infirmities of advanced age. At any rate I expect to read, next summer, that 100,000 plus campus police force and they are our sole means of protecting life and property.

The Meeting Will PLEASE Come to Order!

Horses For Plowing

By WASHINGTON STAFF
WASHINGTON (NEA) —

As the Administration's wage-price guide-posts collapsed after determined assaults by a horde of challengers—including the steel industry which hiked prices $2 a ton — observers couldn't help comparing President Johnson's performance with that of his predecessor under fairly similar conditions.

Coming as it did shortly after the machinists rejected the proposed airline strike settlement, the steel increase perhaps caught the President by surprise.

But in 1962, the late John F. Kennedy was also taken unawares when Roger Blough, chairman of the board at U. S. Steel, announced the decision to raise prices $6 a ton. When five other companies followed suit, Kennedy reacted vigorously.

The Defense Department began shifting purchases to companies which had not raised prices. The Justice Department started inquiries into whether the companies had violated antitrust laws, and the Federal Trade Commission announced an investigation to see whether they had broken price-fixing regulations.

U. S. Steel surrendered 72 hours later, rescinding the hike. Soon thereafter, Blough was summoned to the White House for a chat with the President. When aide Arthur Schlesinger Jr. asked how the conversation had gone, Kennedy—an avid student of the Civil War—replied:

"I told him that his men could keep their horses for the spring plowing."

During the hearings on problems of the big cities, Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., remarked that New York City seemed to be having problems finding top personnel of its

Consumer Still Feels Optimism

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Most American consumers still view the nation's economic future with optimism—but many feel a recession is likely to happen again.

These findings were reported by the University of Michigan Survey Research Center, citing its latest quarterly survey of consumer attitudes and inclinations to buy.

Widespread awareness of rising prices and high interest rates have caused many people to doubt whether prosperity will continue, according to the survey, which was conducted in August.

"American consumers have become much less optimistic since the first of the year," it said.

The survey added that with the economy in its sixth year of continuous expansion, the proportion of families reporting income increases remained very high in August.

The survey is based on personal interviews with the heads of some 1,250 families, representative of all families in the continental United States.

A recession was thought "likely to happen again" by 32 per cent of all families. A year ago, only 20 per cent felt this way.

Relatively few people, however, believe that a recession will come soon.

own, having hired a police commissioner from Philadelphia and a poverty program director from New Haven.

Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N. Y., a Massachusetts import himself, grinned at the comment and observed:

"I'm aware of the situation—and grateful."

Although it's been some time since the phrase, "Banned in Boston," has been plastered across theater marquees or book jackets in other cities, Massachusetts has by no means thrown its puritanical standards out the window.

In opposing a proposal to invite the "Miss Universe" competition to Massachusetts in 1967 and 1968—it was roundly defeated subsequently — one state senator cried that passage would mean:

"We might one day see such things as one of our poets reading the Kinsey report from Parkman bandstand in Boston or the Beatles in Fenway Park — one on each base with Ringo on the bongo at home plate!"

The Washington cocktail circuit dizzily twirls off four or five parties a night for roughly nine months of the year. For those party-goers without ulcers, the caloric intake is amazing.

Sir Robert Beale, the former Australian ambassador, estimated that in five years on the circuit he and Lady Beale consumed five beef cattle, 12 sheep, 1,418 chickens, 589 bottles of wine and 117 bottles of whiskey.

Some bridge players pride themselves on the soundness of their opening bids. We have no quarrel with this policy as long as they don't feel, once they pass with one of those hands that most other players open, that they have been given a special license to make horrible overcalls.

Most players would open the South hand with one diamond. The hand includes 12 high card points, a very good five-card suit and a couple of tens. This South elected to pass and if he could just have stayed out of the bidding from then on, East and West were well on their way to trouble. Even if they had stopped at one no-trump they were due for a 300-point

Finding The Way

By RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.

The human desire to be remembered takes a variety of forms. Names are scrawled on bridge girders, cliffs and otherwise dignified buildings. Or they're thrust into the headlines by the bizarre and outlandish. Notable leaders are remembered by parks, streets, airports or other community monuments. Since most of us won't have that honor, we have only our tombstones to consider. That's a way of perpetuating one's name—for a little while.

Numerous collections of fascinating tombstone inscriptions have been made from time to time. I had a friend in North Carolina who sent me the following inscription:

"She averaged well for this community."

There is no indication of the local average!

In Scotland during this past summer, a delightful inscription was shared by the pastor of the local kirk. The tombstone reads:

Here lies Michael Elkinbrod, Hae mercy on his soul, O God,

As he would hae, were he Lord God

And ye were Michael Elkinbrod.

However, it was in the historic and beautiful Yorkminster that I came upon what must be the world's permanent footnote. We were enjoying the architectural beauty of this lovely cathedral, noting the memorials which lined the corridors and marking the graves of the famous and those who would have been forgotten but for these memorial stones.

Among them there appeared one which recorded in enduring marble the last events of one Viscountess Lora. In meticulous detail there is recorded her ancestry, her children, the time of her death. After some 22 lines of this recounting of personal history there appear these concluding lines:

"For her character and other details, See the Gentleman's Magazine for May, MDCCCXII"

The quotation, six lines of praise, indicated the remarkable qualities of the Viscountess Lora. I shall remember her for this precise footnote.

What footnote do you want on your tombstone? It could be a reference to some passing tribute in the daily newspaper. If so, be sure that it's properly dated and listed.

Perhaps we shall be remembered as those whom Stephen Spender described:

"... those bald at thirty Englishmen Whose polished foreheads are The tombs of record sales."

Ann Landers Husbands Have Many Faults-So Do Wives

Dear Ann Landers: Your column is worth its weight in gold. There's so much people can learn about life just by reading what SOME people consider a problem.

One woman is ready to divorce her husband because he snores. Another woman says she can't stand the sight of her husband's socks and shorts on the floor. A third crackpot complains because her husband asks her to place long-distance phone calls for him. Still another says she is married to the most selfish man in the world. He likes to look at sports events on TV.

Well, my husband has every one of the faults mentioned and a few more besides, but he's the kindest person I've ever known. He's a wonderful father to our children and I consider myself lucky to have him.

I'd like to ask these complaining wives a question. Are you perfect? If you are, then I take back everything I've said. If not, then shut up with your complaints and start talking up your husband's good points. You'll be much happier, and he will be, too. — CONTENTED WIFE

Dear Wife: I can just hear the males of America—"Read this, Honey."

Dear Ann Landers: I am 22. My boy friend is 25. I have been going with George for a year and a half. We have talked seriously about marriage.

I have never met his parents and I feel awfully hurt to think he has made no effort to arrange a meeting. They live in an outlying suburb. We could drive there in less than an hour.

When people ask me how I like George's folks I don't know what to say. It's too humiliating to admit I have never met them.

I am no beauty but I'm average looking and a neat dresser. I don't think he is ashamed of my looks so it can't be that.

What do you make of this? — CHICAGO CRY FOR HELP

Dear Chicago Cry: Maybe George is ashamed of his parents—or where they live. Whatever the reason, it isn't good enough. A young man who goes with a girl for 18 months and talks marriage should certainly introduce his fiancée to his parents, even if they have two heads apiece and live in a broom closet over a bowling alley. Tell him.

Dear Ann: I'm 45, a widow,

Brigham was the name of Buffalo Bill's horse.

financially comfortable. My son is in the Navy and my daughter is moving to another city in a couple of weeks. I never realized how much of my life my children occupied until now. My problem: Boredom.

This summer I found a part-time job. It kept me from going completely nuts, but I didn't meet anyone exciting. I've gone through the club woman routine, so please don't suggest that. Church work attracts hypocrites and scoundrels. Political groups are a waste of time. I'm fed up with bleeding hearts and left-wing goofs.

What can you suggest to help me—BORED

Dear Chairman of the Bored: Not a darned thing. You want someone to come into your life and make your life exciting—and it won't happen. If ever there was a Do-It-Yourself project this is it. I hate to be corny, but it's a fact that no one ever got more out of life than he put into it.

Are you at war with your parents? Do they have too much to say in your life? Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How To Get More Freedom." Send 50c in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Ore Shipping Record Seen

The Chicago & North Western Railway could set a new ore shipping record at Escanaba this year — if weather conditions and other factors are favorable, said Lee McMillan, North Western dock agent.

This would mean topping the previous high of 6½ million tons set in 1960.

September ore shipments at Escanaba totaled 721,480 tons, a gain of nearly 170,000 tons over the same month last year. The North Western loaded out 50 boats in September compared to 39 a year ago.

The ore tonnage flowing through the North Western's big ore dock at Escanaba to Oct. 1 this year is an impressive 4,737,328 tons. This tonnage was loaded into 332 boats.

For comparison, last year's tonnage to date was 4,531,559 tons loaded into 328 boats.

"We are not quite as rushed now as we were earlier in the season, but it is shaping up into a good year," McMillan reported.

Ore shipping at Escanaba is expected to continue to mid-December, possibly later.

"Last season we loaded out the last boat on Dec. 19, which set a new record for us," the dock agent said. "If the weather holds good we could go even later than that this year."

The total ore tonnage moved through Escanaba by the North Western last year was 6,064,785.

"We expect to top that," said McMillan. "Perhaps we will run about 6,300,000 tons — or if we are given good weather we might go higher and even break the record of 6½ million tons set in 1960."

There has been some slight increase in the volume of pelletized ore over last year, which was approximately 50 per cent of the total tonnage. The expansion of the Empire mine pelletizing plant is expected to bring a substantial increase in pellet ore coming to Escanaba next year.

NOW ALMOST ENTIRELY state-owned and without permanent residents, Garden Island once was inhabited by Indians and whites. It is dotted with signs of former habitation — and Indian cemetery, abandoned farms and orchards, an old schoolhouse site, a crumbling post office building — and this decaying sailboat lying along Lake Michigan shore with trees growing through its rotted deck. ### Unlimited Hunting Disappointing

Island Grouse Are Elusive

By KENNETH S. LOWE

A place in Michigan where the ruffed grouse season opens on Sept. 15—two full weeks ahead of the regular start of partridge hunting?

And where there is NO daily limit on the number of birds you're allowed to shoot?

And—most amazing of all—where one hunter last year flushed 43 partridge in an hour?

It sounds unbelievable, but there is such a place. In fact, there are two such places.

One is Garden Island. The other is High Island. Both are part of the Little Beaver Islands State Game Area in northern Lake Michigan. For the past several years the Michigan Conservation Department has been conducting ruffed grouse studies on both islands.

Few Hunters

But—because the islands are isolated and a bit difficult to reach—hunting pressure there has been light. So, in order to try to induce more persons to hunt the islands and thus obtain more grouse specimens for research, the Michigan Conservation Commission this year liberalized grouse hunting regulations on the two islands. The commission voted to conduct a season there from Sept. 15 to Nov. 10 with no daily bag limit.

Biologists reported that in 1964 hunters flushed an average of 4.6 birds per hour on Garden Island and 3.3 per hour on High Island. The averages went down to 1.8 on Garden and up to a whopping 5.6 on High last year.

When I learned this I decided to hunt on one of the islands this year and do my bit to help the department with its research project.

Study Objectives

The two main objectives of the island research, I learned, are to find out (1) why grouse numbers go up and down with seemingly cyclic regularity and (2) how hunting affects grouse population levels.

Like all others who hunt on the islands, I checked through the department's field office at fabled St. James on Beaver Island. There I was assigned to hunt on Garden Island on Sept. 17 and 18.

Garden Island proved to be seven square miles of thick cover, much of it heavy cedar which I never would have expected to find a grouse. But they were there, all right, although I found them far from abundant and impossible to pick up across the gun barrel.

Scattered about the island are patches of hardwood forest and an occasional opening, and here the hunting was more inviting, but I found very few grouse in this cover, either. There were a good number of woodcock, but the woodcock season on Garden Island doesn't open until Oct. 1.

Hunters Encountered

I spent four hours in actual hunting Sept. 17 and five hours Sept. 18. During those nine hours I flushed four birds, saw only two of them and was able to fire at none.

Stephenson Girl Scores On Test

STEPHENSON—A Letter of Commendation honoring her high performance on the 1966 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test has been awarded to Kathleen Peterson of Stephenson High School, Principal Edmer J. Lacasse announced.

Kathleen is among 38,000 students in the United States who scored in the upper two per cent of those who will graduate from high school in 1967. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Peterson of Wallace.

Rock

The American Legion Auxiliary of Rock is having an annual meeting, Wednesday, Oct. 5 at 8 p. m. at the Rock Lions Club.

One of the hunters I met on the island was Bruce Cameron of Lansing, a native of Trout Creek and a graduate of Northern Michigan University. A very experienced bird hunter, he spent three days on Garden Island and went home without a bird.

Along one of the woods trails on the island I ran into James A. O. Crowe, outdoor editor of the Detroit News. He had spent two days hunting High Island without flushing a bird. He had flushed one grouse on Garden Island earlier that day but missed it.

If all this leads you to believe there are almost no birds on Garden Island, consider this: Walter Palmer of Lansing, a department biologist, spent seven hours beating the bush on Garden Island one day this season, flushed 31 ruffed grouse and killed four. But it should be remembered that Palmer was the man who first brought grouse to the island. He may know them by their first names. In 1956 Palmer released 28 grouse on High Island. The next year he turned 37 loose on Garden Island. Prior to that there were no partridge on either island.

Now there are a lot of grouse there—if you can find them, as Palmer did or as Thomas Prawdzik did. Prawdzik also is a department biologist. Now stationed at downtown Atlanta, he formerly worked out of Lansing. He bought down five "pats" on Garden Island in one day of hunting, and so far as I know, no one has done better than that on this Isle of Grouse Unlimited.

number of homes. Heavy damage also was reported at the nearby U.S. Navy base although none of the base's 9,000 residents was reported seriously injured.

Flattens Sugar
Havana radio said Inez' devastating winds flattened Oriente Province's precious sugar crop but did not necessarily ruin the crop. Earlier, her winds and torrential rains wiped out the cotton crop on the Barahona peninsula of the Dominican Republic.

Civil defense authorities in the Dominican Republic placed the toll at 67 dead and 225 missing, with more than 1,000 homes destroyed. Unofficial sources listed more than 100 dead, 500 injured and some 5,000 left homeless.

In the primitive island of Haiti, a storm-oriented communications shutdown may have hidden the worst tragedy of all. Unofficial sources who flew over the island estimated at least 50 persons were killed and hundreds were injured.

State Dairy Herds Dwindle

When a farmer foregoes the milk pail to take a lunch pail into the factory, milk production declines and so does the number of cattle and herds. How many cattle nobody knows exactly, but the state has less than half as many herds as nine years ago.

B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture who is also a dairy herd owner, says there were 21,773 dairy herds in the state in July. In October of 1957 there were 53,852.

"Going out of the dairying business is a national trend. Many other forms of employment are more profitable and less confining. Unless this trend is stopped, this country will not have enough milk to meet our needs," Ball said.

Ball will head a delegation to Escanaba for the annual Upper Peninsula meeting of the Michigan Commission of Agriculture to be held in Escanaba on Tuesday, Oct. 4. The commission will dine at Marco's at 7 p. m. on Monday and hold its fall meeting at the State Office Building the next day.

The average number of animals in the dairy herds that remain is showing an increase, says Ball but this does not offset the marked reduction in dairy herds and total dairy cattle in the state. This is apparent at points where milk is received from farms for bottling purposes or manufactured dairy products.

Figures of the Michigan Department of Agriculture disclose a surprising decline in herds in the state. County herd number reductions are equally dramatic.

Huron County, one of the top milk producers, has declined from 2,025 herds to 871 herds in the 1957-66 period. Neighboring Sanilac, the state's largest dairy county, has gone from 2,367 herds to 1,362.

Nine years ago there were 1,351 dairy herds in Kent County which surrounds Grand Rapids. Today there are only 540.

The major milk producing county in the Upper Peninsula is Menominee. Here also the trend has been felt with the number of dairy herds dropping from 1,406 to 509 in the nine-year period.

Medical Corpsmen Suggested To Fill Health Work Gap

EAST LANSING (AP)—Army-trained medical corpsmen, returning from the war in Viet Nam, could help Michigan meet its need for more health workers, a Michigan State University educator suggests.

Dr. Walter Burnett, coordinator of MSU's health facilities management program, urged health officials to study how the returning corpsmen's talents could best be used in civilian service.

"These men have been involved in actual blood-and-guts crises situations with the wounded, much like our hospital emergencies," Burnett said. "When they return from military service, they find they are 'an illegitimate product,' with no status in civilian society."

"They represent an almost completely overlooked and untapped resource for health service personnel," he told members of the Michigan Nursing Home Association, meeting at East Lansing this week.

One problem, Burnett explained, is that there is no licensing mechanism for corpsmen to go directly into civilian service.

The only statewide licensing programs in health care now are for doctors and nurses.

New Slogan For 67 Truck Plates

LANSING (AP)—Michigan will have a new slogan on some of its license plates next year.

Although passenger vehicle plates will still identify the state as the "Water - Winter Wonderland," about half a million commercial plates will term it the "Great Lake State."

Secretary of State James Hare, who approved the new slogan, predicted it "will catch the eye because many persons will think we made a mistake and that it should read, 'Great Lakes State.'"

"But it is deliberate and very much to the point," Hare said, "because Michigan is truly a great lake state surrounded by the Great Lakes and containing thousands of inland lakes."

Humphrey's Plan On Move Nearer To Capitol Hill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Hubert H. Humphreys are joining the ranks of city cliff dwellers and moving into a fancy high-rise apartment near Capitol Hill.

One of the reasons, so Humphreys can go home for lunch. "This is something we've thought about for a long time," Mrs. Humphrey said in an interview. "We've excited about the move."

The vice president and his wife plan to move within the next month, but say, "We're taking our time."

There's decorating, for instance. "I haven't had time to give it much thought," Mrs. Humphrey said.

She plans to use furniture from their pleasant two-story three-bedroom home in suburban Chevy Chase, Md., for the apartment.

The new apartment is on the eighth floor of a nine-story cooperative in southwest Washington, along the Potomac River. A cooperative is an apartment in which tenants buy space as one would purchase a house.

Federal Experts Check Car Price Hike Justification

DETROIT (AP)—A team of federal engineers and consumer price experts has begun an inquiry to determine if recently announced increases in 1967 auto prices were justified.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said the findings would be made public about mid-November.

Wirtz said the government experts would check the auto companies' contention that such items as an additional safety package and increased labor costs had resulted in the price hikes.

General Motors has increased its U.S. car prices an average of $34 while Ford's increase now stands at $66 and Chrysler's at $68.

HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Heloise:
I find that a generous application of paste wax, such as one uses on hardwood floors, is excellent to apply on the inside of a garbage can and its lid.

When you buy a new can, if you apply the wax with a paper napkin or a paper towel, it will go on much thicker.

For those who have old garbage cans (not rusted), first wash them thoroughly, and leave them out in the sun all day so the cans will dry out completely. Then apply the wax.

O. B. Taylor

Dear Heloise:
If your hot air registers have narrow slots, you'll find a perforator brush a handy tool with which to clean them.

Pirates Rained Out

Magic Number Remains At Two

By The Associated Press

Anybody up there like Harry? Poor Harry Walker. He was up with the sun, out at Forbes Field before the groundskeepers, on the golf course to keep his mind off his troubles, then back at the ballpark to play a little do-or-die with the Giants.

But whatever fates are charged with protecting the fortunes of the Los Angeles Dodgers did their work well Friday. The heavens opened up on Harry and the Pirates, who now must play a doubleheader with the Giants today, though even that is far from certain. There is an 80 per cent chance of rain. Harry is not amused.

"You're always better off playing when you're scheduled," he said. "You don't want a doubleheader if you can avoid them. That's two times you have to gear yourself up. It throws the pressure on you."

It does indeed. The Pirates have to win three games from the Giants and hope like mad the Phillies knock off the Dodgers a couple more times.

Philadelphia beat Los Angeles 5-3 Friday, leaving the Dodgers' magic number at two.

Any combination of Dodger victories and Pirate losses totaling two eliminates Pittsburgh.

If the Dodgers lose their two remaining games to the Phils and if the Giants sweep three from Pittsburgh and another from Cincinnati on Monday, then the Giants and Dodgers will be in a playoff.

The Dodgers were very much in the game Friday until Bill White hit a three-run homer in the seventh inning. They came back with two in the ninth, but Chris Short, who allowed just seven hits in getting his 19th victory got them out before any more damage was done.

The clubs go at it again today unless the rain heads east from Pittsburgh, as it was threatening to do. At last calculation, there was a 70 per cent chance of rain in Philadelphia today.

FAMILIAR SCENE for Green Bay fullback Jim Taylor shows him beneath the pile but over the goal line. When the Packers need an inch, they give it to Reliable Jim straight up the middle.

Packer-Lion NFL Game Sunday Matches Domineering Defenses

By KEN HARTNETT

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) —

The Detroit Lions and the Green Bay Packers, two teams with domineering defenses and erratic offenses, tangle Sunday in a National Football League game the Lions can't afford to lose.

Detroit, one game behind the unbeaten Packers in the Western Conference race, would tie for the lead with a victory.

A defeat would push the Lions two games back with the dangerous Los Angeles Rams and Baltimore Colts next on their schedule.

To win, Detroit must move the ball against a Packers' defensive unit that has yielded less yardage per game than any team in the league.

The Packers' attack, more successful this season than Detroit's, has not been consistent. Even at its best, the Packers' offensive unit could have trouble against the Lions.

Detroit, like the Packers, has allowed just three touchdowns one per game. And like the Packers, Detroit boasts a quick-striking pass rush led by tackles

Alex Karras and Roger Broin.

Both teams have a strong linebacking corps and a ball-hawking secondary.

The critical difference between the teams could be at quarterback. Both teams have veterans in the key position, but the Packers' Bart Starr is on his way to a banner season while the Lions' Milt Plum has been a victim of an old bugaboo—the interception.

Starr, getting good protection from his linemen this season, has completed 46 of 69 passes for a phenomenal percentage of .667. His passes have picked up 633 yards and produced four touchdowns. Only one of his tosses has been picked off.

Plum, who had a solid 19 for 27 day against Atlanta in a 20-10 victory last Sunday, is 36 for 63 for 433 yards and three touchdowns. But six of his throws, almost 10 per cent, have been intercepted. The Packers thrive on interceptions.

Green Bay's running game is strong again with the return to form of Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung. Detroit's main threats on the ground are halfback Amos Marsh and fullback Tom Nowatzke. A No. 1 draft choice in 1965, Nowatzke is Detroit's chief ground gainer with 136 yards in 37 carries.

Joe Don Looney, a sometimes brilliant runner, was suspended after balking at being used as a "messenger" against Atlanta.

The Lions and Packers split their two games last season with the Packers coming from behind to win 31-21 at Detroit and bowing 12-7 at Green Bay in a game that saw Starr dumped a dozen times while trying to pass.

But Smoky Burgess singled home a run in the bottom of the ninth and John Romano singled one across in the 11th, and the Yankee magic went poof.

In other AL games, Minnesota swept Baltimore 10-7 and 8-2, Kansas City defeated Detroit 6-5 and California trimmed Cleveland 2-0.

In the National League, Philadelphia stopped Los Angeles 5-3, St. Louis downed Chicago 2-0 and New York nipped Houston 1-0. Rain washed out San Francisco at Pittsburgh and Atlanta at Cincinnati.

Burgess' run-scoring single in the ninth was the 130th pinch hit of his career and extended his record. Romano's two-out single two innings later brought Mel Stottlemyre his 20th loss against 12 victories. He was 20-0 last year.

Minnesota pulled into a second-place tie with Detroit with the double victory over the champion Orioles. The Twins roughed up one of Baltimore's top pitchers in each game.

Harmon Killebrew, Rich Rollins and Bob Allison homered off Dave McNally in the opener, and Killebrew and Don Mincher connected against Jim Palmer in the nightcap.

Kansas City downed Detroit with a three-run rally in the eighth inning, the last two runs coming on Dick Green's homer. Jim Gosger and Tim Lorton connected earlier for the Athletics.

Dean Chance pitched a two-hitter for only his second shutout of the season. He gained the victory, his 12th against 17 defeats, on Jose Cardenal's two-run single in the third inning.

Los Angeles (AP) — Coach Jack Christensen of the San Francisco 49ers, a man of few words and one who likes to leave the scene of football accidents as soon as possible, remains in character.

After watching the 49ers take a 34-3 whipping Friday night from the Los Angeles Rams, Christensen made this succinct observation:

"I have just one thing to say. With that, the 49ers' boss flipped his overcoat over his shoulder and marched out of the dressing room in Los Angeles' Memorial Coliseum.

The game between the two National Football League California teams, unrecalled before 45,842, was a prelude to resumption of the NFL action Sunday.

The champion Green Bay Packers, seeking their fourth straight triumph, entertain Detroit in a Western Division battle, and St. Louis, the Eastern loop leader, also unbeaten in three, is at Philadelphia.

Other games in the NFL: Dallas at Atlanta, Cleveland at New York, Chicago at Minnesota and Pittsburgh at Washington.

In the AFL Sunday, Kansas City plays Buffalo, Houston is at Denver and Miami meets San Diego.

The Rams are now 3-1-0 in the standings, alone at least until Sunday in second place in the West.

The winless 49ers, 0-2-1, were the underdogs at Los Angeles and fell back 10-0 in the first quarter and trailed 20-0 at half-time.

The brutal Ram defense gave San Francisco's quarterback, John Brodie, a bad night. It intercepted four Brodie throws and turned three of them into two field goals and a touchdown.

"We just got our pants kicked," said Brodie, who really didn't say pants. "Did you see anything good we did down there?"

"The Ram defense is really improved and as for me, things generally don't go too well for me in Los Angeles."

Ram Coach George Allen, while praising his team for "a 40-man win," said of the 49ers: "I still think the 49ers are a good football team and will win their share of games."

The Rams' scooter Dick Bass scored three touchdowns and broke a Ram career rushing record with 92 yards for 3,501 yards in his seventh year. The old mark was 3,493.

Deacon Dan Towler, now the Rev. Daniel L. Towler, held the record and watched as Bass erased it.

The Packers and the Lions split their games last season and the Detroit defense always seems to stiffen to the Green Bay challenge.

St. Louis had trouble with the Eagles when the teams opened the NFL season three weeks ago. Only a field goal by Jim Bakken with five seconds left gave the Cards the game.

Dallas looks for its third straight triumph with Don Meredith seeking to add to the seven touchdowns passes he has thrown in the team's first two games. Atlanta is hunting for its homer in the sixth but the Tigers rallied for three runs in the bottom of the inning which was capped by Wilson's single.

Singles by Horton, Don Wert and Bill Freehan in the seventh put the Tigers ahead for the third time in the game.

Kansas City shortstop Bert Campaneris was ejected for taking a swing at Dick McAuliffe after he was tagged out trying to go from first to third on an infield grounder. Players from both teams streamed onto the field but no other punches were thrown.

"To tell you the truth, I didn't see it," Skaff said. "But the umpires said McAuliffe was off balance when he took the throw and leaned on Campaneris."

He's going to get thrown out a lot if he gets mad every time a player leans on him," Skaff continued. "It was a great play by McAuliffe. He saw it developing early."

New Plant Open To Public Oct. 11

Gladstone To Hail Eaton

The public is invited to attend the ceremonies at Eaton Yale & Towne Inc.'s new Gladstone plant at 3 p. m. Tuesday, Oct. 11 officially marking start of enlarged Gladstone operations in the big new factory.

Edward Frederick of Kenosha, Wis., assistant general manager of the Dynamatic Division, and Mike Saada of Opinion Builders, Inc., Cleveland public relations firm serving Eaton, conferred in Gladstone on Friday with firm officials and civic leaders on plans for the community's welcome to its big new industry, an international industrial giant which is bringing a new era of manufacturing to Gladstone.

Visitors to the plant for the ceremonies on Oct. 11 will see 125 employees at work on production of electric motors, a traditional product of the old Marble Electric plant, and of sheaves and pulleys for mechanical power transmission equipment for Eaton's Dynamatic Division.

When Eaton took over the former Marble Electric plant from Bell & Gossett there were only a dozen employees at work. It soon boosted the number to 50 and now has 125, with a goal of 300 within a year.

The plant when acquired had 17,000 square feet of floor space. It was immediately doubled to 35,000 square feet and the new plant to be seen in the public inspection adds 100,000 square feet to provide a total of 135,000, tripling even the enlarged plant.

Lighter Fluid Is Cause Of Death Among Children

According to the Delta-Menominee District Health Department, lighter fluid, kerosene, gasoline and related substances continue to be reported as causes of accidental poisoning among children.

Over 1,000 cases of children under five years swallowing lighter fluid were reported last year. Most flammable liquids, known as hydrocarbons, are poisonous to humans and even relatively small amounts are toxic to children.

Though most cases are not fatal, swallowing usually produces a severe illness marked by nausea, vomiting, cough and loose stools, sometimes bloody. The most serious consequence is a form of pneumonia caused by the substance coming into contact with lung tissue.

Dr. Mary Cretens, Delta-Menominee District Health Department stressed that prompt medical attention is necessary for a child who has swallowed any of these substances. Rush him to the hospital without delay, she said.

Chemicals should be stored safely within the home, kept in tightly capped or closed metal cans that cannot break, and out of reach and sight of children. The best precaution against accidental poisoning by flammable liquids is to store them where children cannot get to them, said Dr. Cretens.

Walk To School!

SEDRO WOOLLEY, Wash. (AP) — Many local pupils did Friday what some of their parents did many years ago — walked to school.

Eleven buses were put out of operation by vandals who slashed fan belts, cut gasoline lines and removed distributor caps. Ten other buses were not damaged.

Most pupils made it to school, however.

Robert Warnecke, assistant superintendent, said vandalism has been a growing problem.

Linda Johnson Crowned Queen

Linda Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arne Johnson, 607 Wisconsin Ave., was crowned Gladstone high school Homecoming Queen at the pep rally at the high school gymnasium Friday night.

She was crowned by Ann Girard, 1965 queen.

The Queen and her court rode in the Queen's float this afternoon and Miss Johnson was honored at halftime of the Gladstone-Manistique football game by acting Captains Mike Dantiz, Gary Larson, Tom Stade and Mike Maniaci.

Sandy Holm, Joanne Wery, Diane Sjoquist, Susan Schram and Keiko Ono are members of the Queen's Court.

The Queen's father is a patient at St. Vincent's Hospital, Green Bay, Wis., awaiting surgery scheduled Monday. His room is 825.

Chicken Project Phasing Out

Chatham Tries Turkey Eggs

By JEAN WORTH

Michigan State University's farm experiment station at Chatham is changing from chickens to turkeys in its poultry research, announces Howard C. Zindel, chairman of the University's Department of Poultry Science.

The university's research into poultry housing started at Chatham in 1957 will be terminated on Feb. 7 with removal of the laying flock and in place of the chickens a flock of turkeys will be introduced to prove the feasibility of producing turkey eggs in a period of the year when the big birds do not lay in the South.

There is also, says Zindel, a large potential for turkey production for the meat market in the Upper Peninsula. Biggest obstacle to that further venture, he says, is the lack of turkey meat processing plants in the area.

Seeking Industry

The decision to switch to turkeys was made in an effort to stimulate research in turkey housing, off-season growing and particularly the production of turkey hatching eggs during the warm months. Dr. John Wolford will direct the research from East Lansing.

Dr. Zindel said that there is a potential for hatching egg sales not only in Michigan, but out of the state. First turkey poult will be shipped from East Lansing to Chatham on April 1.

"We know of no turkeys being raised in the Upper Peninsula," said Dr. Zindel, "so the disease potential is zero. The production of turkey meat in Michigan is less than half of the state's need at present and most of the hatching is done in the Holland-Zeeland area. Eggs for these hatcheries are supplied by Texas, California and Oregon and why shouldn't they be supplied by Michigan? In summer the birds do not lay in warm areas."

Broad-Breasted Turkeys

"We have space at Chatham for 1,448 hens and 180 toms. We will milk the toms every 10 days and artificially inseminate the females. The experiment will continue for 36 months and provide six trials of the project in the three years."

"The breeding stock is foundation stock of broad-breasted white turkeys which will be moved from North Carolina hatcheries to East Lansing when a day old."

Short of Own Needs

"The eggs from the Chatham flock will be shipped by air to Charlotte, N. C., for hatching, with shipments planned once a week starting in April."

"We think the Upper Peninsula is suitable for this type of production and that the potential is tremendous. We no longer range turkeys in fields but employ 'confinement rearing' in an insulated building."

"We think this could become a business like Minnesota's, which is second or third now among the states in turkey meat production. It's chief disadvantage is lack of population for markets, which Michigan has."

In the past 12 years Michigan turkey meat production has been about one million birds a year. Minnesota and Wisconsin, with similar climate and feed situations, have expanded their production 43.1 and 92.9 percent in the past 7 years.

The potential Michigan market, at 7 pounds per person per year, is about 3-4 million birds for the state's 8 million consumers and the Northeast market is also within Michigan's potential supply. Currently Michigan is producing only 30 to 35 percent of its turkey needs.

Navy Short Of Line Officers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has a critical shortage of experienced line officers for surface ships and is looking for ways to interest them to stay in uniform longer, Navy Department officials report.

Navy statistics show that the over-all retention rate among officers in the three Navy services — submarine, aviation and surface line — has fallen to a present low of 38.7 per cent, meaning barely one in three officers decides to stay on in the service.

For the noncareer officers the retention rate is 20.7 per cent. Officials report that it is even lower than that for surface line officers, although the Navy does not provide specific breakdowns.

The low retention rate has resulted in a shortage of 4,500 officers — about 43 per cent — among the commander, lieutenant commander and lieutenant ranks of the submarine and surface line services.

A Navy task force has been studying the retention problem for the past 20 months and recently reported to Secretary of the Navy Paul H. Nitze that, among other things, "the surface line community is in critical shape."

Current manpower statistics, supplied on request, indicate that the Navy is meeting all of its officer requirements on an over-all basis despite the sharp shortage among the surface lines.

Apollo Mission Trio Is Picked

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — A veteran of two space trips and a pair of newcomers have been picked to fly the second three-man Apollo mission in the nation's drive to land men on the moon by 1969.

Crewmen for the flight to last up to 14 days in earth orbit are Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele and R. Walter Cunningham, one of the civilian spacemen.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration expected to officially announce their selection today.

Their trip, scheduled for next spring, will be the second in the series of practice missions in the roomy Apollo spacecraft, like the one to some day carry men on a lunar landing mission.

The first three-man voyage, also to last up to two weeks, currently is set for mid-December. The pilots are Air Force Lt. Col. Virgil I. Grissom, Lt. Col. Edward H. White II and Navy Lt. Roger B. Chaffee.

Schirra, one of the original seven Mercury astronauts named in 1959, will be taking his third trip into space. At 43, he is the oldest of the nation's spacemen.

Warren said Friday night the committee, headed by Justice Earl Warren, is a committee of 12 federal judges examining possible guidelines or other corrective action to protect federal jurors from prejudicial publicity.

Warren said the study of possible guidelines resulted from the Supreme Court decision last June throwing out the conviction of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard on charges of slaying his first wife. The court ruled the Cleveland newspaper was denied a fair trial because of "virulent publicity" in the case.

The committee is composed of a circuit or district judge from each federal judicial circuit.

In Memoriam LaFave

In loving memory of our beloved son, father and brother Edward Donald LaFave, who passed away 3 years ago Oct. 1, 1963.

Little we knew when we awoke. The sorrow the day would bring. The call was sudden, shock severe. To part with one we loved so dear. To bid no one a last farewell. Or even said goodbye. You were gone before we knew. And only God knows why.

Sadly missed by Father, Mother, Sisters, Brothers and Daughter Cindy Lou
